

NCSLMA Scholarships

Two scholarships, each in the amount of $1000, will be presented annually to increase the number and quality of school library media personnel in North Carolina. The scholarship will be used to assist in the cost of having successfully completed one three-hour graduate course leading to a graduate degree in library science and a North Carolina 076 Media Coordinator certification.

Applicants must be a member of NCSLMA and in good academic standing with an accredited School of Library Science within the North Carolina University System. The graduate course must have been completed during the previous twelve months prior to the application deadline with a grade of B or better. This is a one time scholarship.

The scholarship application is now available. The application is saved as a Google Doc. You will need to make a copy in Google Drive or download a copy into Microsoft Word.

Applications are due by May 31, 2018.

Please contact Sarah Justice at sjustice@tcsnc.org if you have any questions.
